

Noir

Creekbend Vineyard • Estate Bottled • 2017

→ Tasting Notes

- Lovely aromas of black cherry and blackberries.
- Lingering flavors of black currants and black raspberries.
- Light bodied, soft and round.

→ Vinification

- This wine has no barrel aging, all stainless — better to preserve its delicate fruit character.
- The Foch portion was fermented from pressed juice, with no skin contact during fermentation.
- We removed a significant portion of free run juice from the fermenter for a darker color as well as more intense, interesting flavors.
- The very low acids in Coror Noir blended nicely with the relatively higher acidity of the Foch.
